

Some Reminders Q & A

Desirus:

If there are any questions, we would be glad to answer.

Q: I had one – I was wondering what you thought about of vegans, vegetarians, and people that eat meat and what kind of energy those different kinds of behaviours created.

A: As said, we do not judge – you are on your journey. It is slightly wiser not to indulge in flesh, as we would say. Those of you who are meat-eaters - respect the four-legged or the animal or swimmer you digest. It is of the utmost importance to bless this flesh and it is of the utmost importance to know how this four-legged was reared. Times on your planet have changed. Customs have changed. We used to respect our four-leggeds, our swimmers, and our flyers - and there again we do not judge. There was a kind of different communication. So for you who have undertaken this journey now – respect the flesh you digest and bless it. We do not judge and you should not judge. It is of the utmost importance you nourish your biological bodies well. Would that answer the question?

A: That's good, thanks.

~ And so, are there more questions?

Q: Should we spend more and more time in nature, do you think, and form a relationship with the plants and the flowers and the trees...?

A: For those of you know have this gift, and this empathy – absolutely. For those of you who have the opportunity to be in nature, to enjoy, to reflect – most definitely so, and for those of you who can, it would be good to teach others about your planet. So, yes.

Again, those who come and undertake the journeys and what you would call incarnate on your planet, it is important to find beauty and light. As your know the plan is that the planet will ascend it does not mean it will disappear. There will be an ascension of your planet which will be then a resting place of beauty - what stays behind is slightly denser. It might be difficult to understand. For some of you the hope was that the whole planet would ascend – it might not happen like that. Would that answer a question?

It is as if a part, like your emotional fields, so a part of the planet like a field will ascend and that will definitely happen. For those who are still asleep they will not notice. It is a very simplistic way of explaining and with that – if there are no more questions...

Touching the Diamond Within

Q: I had one question, a specific question. We were thinking of collating some of these channellings and making a book and I wondered if you had any advice on how to put the information together and the best way to do this?

A: The information, which was given and will be given, will flow. It will flow, it will be done. It has to flow like a river, and it will - all in good time. All we can say is that we are grateful for the work done. Remember, this information has to be pure and flow like a river.

~ Thank you

~ And with that, we The Diamond Energy will bid you goodbye...for now.
